

NUPTIALS CALL for KARLETTE and STEVE

In Florida, where the ocean and land meet as one
With wind and water, the sail is on the sun
Listen within the seashells to the waves on high
From heaven above, it's Nuptial's call to beautify

Since ancient times, the philosopher's call has sought
To find the one true meaning of love and what it hath wrought
Yet in each era of modern times ... in letters and songs of this eternal theme
We can only hope to add more weight of messages about the magic, it seems

Within our heart of hearts, searching for someone to unveil
Laughing and crying, just like in a fairy tale
It brings thee closer together, until love is all there is
With these emotions and feelings, seal love with a kiss

Mother Nature finds love in a Spring bouquet
Shakespeare compares thee to a summer's day
Autumn's colorful cornucopia dazzles lovers' delight
Hibernation in winters cool, binds love each night

Love is like sailing high on the crest of a wave
Through rough seas and calm waters ... all must be brave
Be it cool or warm, sunny or with fogs dense mist
Love is something that few can easily resist

Mornings and nights, months and years Seasons change, but love draws you near
